Tells Strange Tales Of World Theatres

Miss Beatrice Prentice, who "played her way" around the world.

This demure little miss just returned from a trip around the world which she made as a leading woman in an American company on tour. She has played in such far away places as Honolulu, Japan, China, India, Suez, Arabia, Egypt, France, Belgium and Holland. She brings back strange tales of the oriental theatres, of the half-dressed boys who play women's parts, the hot towels peddled to the audience from time to time which are taken and used to wipe the face and hands and then handed back, the conduct of the spectators who sit and chew betel nuts, and sip tea, eat bananas and of all manner of things which would send a temperamental American actor into a rage; and the wonderful and luxurious theaters for royalty in the orient where the enormous stage revolves and the curtain is used only once in two or three hours. Miss Prentice had as many as seventeen plays in three weeks.

Townley Denied A New Trial

ST. PAUL, MINN., April 20.—The state supreme court today denied a new trial to A. C. Townley, president of the National Non-Partisan League, and Joseph Gilbert, former organization manager of the league, convicted on a charge of conspiracy to teach sedition. The case was brought to trial June 23, 1919.

Refuse To Review Case

COLUMBUS—The supreme court refused to review the case of W. W. Morris, former state representative from Cleveland, who was sentenced to serve a term in the penitentiary following his conviction of embezzling funds from the police pension fund, while secretary of the Cleveland safety department.

This Bachelor On War Path

GREAT FALLS, MONT., April 20.—Declaring that "spinsters are responsible for my not being married in their refusals of my wooing in the past," William Atzinger, 35, a member of the board of directors of the Montana State Fair, today notified the assessor of Chouteau county, that he will refuse to pay the poll tax of $3 levied by the last legislature upon bachelors.

"Tax the spinsters of the same age, and I will gladly pay, but otherwise it is class legislation and I stand upon my rights," he declared. "Furthermore, I refuse to get married to escape jail and I refuse to pay a bachelor tax to escape jail."

BAVARIAN KING COMES OUT OF EXILE TO ATTEND WEDDING OF CROWN PRINCE

Bavarian King and the Crown Prince's bride are shown in the upper picture and the Crown Prince and bride in the lower.

The recent marriage of Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria fifty-two, to the young Princess Antoinette of Luxembourg, twenty-two, at Longjumeau, attracted world wide attention. It marked the first appearance from exile of King Louis III of Bavaria. He left his exile home in Hohenwerfen, near Munich, to attend the ceremony. The Grand Duke of Baden, the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg sister of the bride, and many other members of the European nobility attended.

GERMANY STILL HAS CHANCE TO MODIFY REPARATIONS OFFERS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)
WASHINGTON, April 20.—Germany still has an opportunity to modify her reparations proposals and make them satisfactory to the Allies and thus prevent occupation of the Ruhr.

Although the United States Government is not taking the initiative or adopting any course that might be construed as an effort to persuade Germany to change her proposals, nevertheless the cables and radio have conveyed to Berlin within the last twenty-four hours enough newspaper dispatches and official utterances from Paris and London especially to let the Germans know their offer is unacceptable.

Difference Centers On Collection
The difference between the Allies and Germany does not center on the amount to be paid but upon the terms and method of collection. An error in the cable text has been discovered which puts a different light on at least one important paragraph of the German proposal, that which relates to "unproductive outlays." The first version made it appear that the German Government wanted to be rid of these outlays which are interpreted to mean the funds spent in sustaining the Allied armies of occupation but the German Government's official statement now says the note should have read that German business must be rid of "unproductive outlays" and that the phrase refers to disadvantageous trade arrangements.

Removal of Sanctions Opposed
In any event the most objectionable clause in the German proposals is that which declares as a condition of payment that all penalties or "sanctions" must be removed. The Germans declare officially in a supplementary statement made after the German proposal was made to Washington that this means only the penalties imposed by the recent London conferences and does not involve in any way the sanctions provided by the Versailles treaty.

May Be Suitable Basis
Should these two important points be made clear in an official communication to the United States it may be that when the Allies examine the entire proposition it may fall into the category of a "suitable basis" for discussion later on. For the moment the (Continued on Page Six)

OFFICIALS IN HOTBEDS OF RADICALISM ARE READY FOR DISORDERS

CHICAGO, April 20.—The real leaders in the group of Industrial Workers of the World convicted for anti-government war time conspiracies have jumped their bond and now are believed to be furthering revolutionary ideas, federal officials said after a final check-up of the 47 men who were to report to the Leavenworth, Kansas, penitentiary following refusal of the United States supreme court to review their cases.

Nine convicted men are at liberty, the others either having reached the penitentiary or being on their way, it was said. Only one of the conspiracy chiefs is behind the bars, however, the others at Leavenworth being termed small fry, or men "happened to get in the way of the government war time program."

Of the nine who are free, six are looked on as chief instigators of the anti-war activities. Three of these six are believed to be holding "cabinet" positions in the Russian soviet government and three are believed to be in this country. Two of the remaining three who have not surrendered, are expected to give up within a few days. The other, not considered by the government to be of much importance, is looked on as "permanently missing."

The six—Haywood, Lissie, Rothstein, Andreychich, Jankola and Laukka—were the men who actually organized I. W. W. anti-war activities, according to Charles F. Cline, United States district attorney.

Patriotic J. Brennan, chief of the local department of justice, said he was "prepared for trouble Sunday, but did not expect it here."

A parade is scheduled, but Chief of Police Fitzmaurice has barred the red flag, though permitting the carrying of soviet slogans.

Circulars advocating overthrow of the government and a May Day revolution, were distributed in Aurora, Illinois, secretly Wednesday night, and in Gary, Indiana, last night.

Circulars Urge Workers To Revolt

ANSONIA, CONN., April 20.—Radical literature again was distributed in this city during the night. Circulars bearing the caption, "The First of May—the Day of Reckoning and Liberation," and purporting to be issued by anarchist groups of the United States and Canada, were found this morning. In them workers are advised to refuse to pay taxes and rents, refuse to obey laws, take possession of the land, factories, mills and mines and to go armed to mass meetings or parades.

Radicals Seek Revolution In Gary

GARY, IND., April 20.—Gary, with one of the largest percentages of foreign born populations of any city in the United States, has made thorough preparations to prevent any anti-government demonstrations that may be planned for May Day, it was said today.

Thousands of hand bills bearing the caption, "May Day of Revolution is Here," have been distributed throughout the city in the last forty-eight hours. They call on workers to "destroy the United States government."

Any change of an outbreak Sunday or any other day, however, is considered remote by William F. Hodges, mayor, and W. A. Forbis, chief of police. Strict orders governing parades have been issued.

"If reds start anything they will be sorry they ever tried it," Mayor Hodges said. "We are ready to welcome them with iron hands to insoluble graves. We will be prepared for any emergency."

Would-Be Suicide To Recover

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Recovery of Walter S. Schmidt, 20, world war veteran, who shot himself near the heart in Trinity church here, Wednesday, was predicted today by physicians at Grant Hospital.

Opposed To Inquiry Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The war department is strongly opposed to the adoption by the house of the Flood resolution asking why Brigadier General Omar Bundy was not recommended for promotion by President Harding, Secretary Weeks says in a letter to Chairman Kahn, of the military committee, laid before the house today.

Immigration Bill Reported Favorably

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—The house immigration restriction bill was reported favorably today by the senate immigration committee after elimination of provisions to accord special privileges for entrance of minors and persons subject to religious persecution.

American Beats British Veteran

LONDON, April 20.—C. S. Cutting, American court tennis star, today defeated C. R. Tatham, English veteran, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2, in the third round for the amateur court tennis championship of Great Britain. The matches are being played at the Queen's Club here.

KAHN SAYS U. S. ARMY OF 168,000 MEN TOO SMALL

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 20.—Chairman Kahn, of the military affairs committee, told the house today that an enlisted force of 168,000 men as fixed by the army appropriation bill was too small and that at the proper time he would offer an amendment increasing the number to 175,000.

Citing the fact that Japan and China both had much larger armies than this country, the California representative said that in proportion to population, only Colombia and Uruguay had smaller armies than the United States.

"Thousands of our fellow citizens believe," said Mr. Kahn, "that this country by its action in the way of reducing its army can bring about international disarmament without any difficulty. Some months have elapsed since we reduced our forces. I HAVE SPENT NO INDICATION ANYWHERE THAT ANOTHER NATION IN THE WORLD IS MAKING EFFORTS TO FOLLOW OUR FOOTSTEPS."

Answering the demand for reduction of government expenses, Mr. Kahn declared the secretary of war could be trusted absolutely to cut expenses wherever possible without injury to the military establishment.

"It seems to me the facts are so palpable that no one at this time ought to want to cripple our military establishment," Mr. Kahn declared.

"We have grave international questions which our state department is trying to solve. We hope they will be solved with honor and credit to our government. During the solution of these matters and for their solution, no individual can foresee what is going to happen. I for one believe we can afford to be prepared for any possible emergency and I think the American people will approve the increase in our enlisted force."

Baggage Master Shot By Bandit

BAYONNE, N. J., April 20.—Matthew Lyons, baggage master on the Jersey Central Railroad here, was shot and seriously wounded today by one of four men who held up a group of post office employees and escaped with three bags of mail, one of which contained registered mail.

The men drove up in an automobile just as twenty bags of mail were being loaded into a truck to be taken to the post office. Immediately after shooting Lyons, who resisted, the hold-up men drove away, having previously turned in a fire alarm to distract the attention of police.

Since silk hosiery seems to be the greater part of women's and girls' dress nowadays, there ought to be any unemployment in the stockin' industry. Here's some weather:

OHIO—Fair and continued cool tonight. Probably light frost, Saturday fair with rising temperature.

KENTUCKY—Fair and continued cool tonight and Saturday.

The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 58; low, 46.

OHIO SENATE IN OPEN REVOLT AGAINST GOVERNOR DAVIS

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Open rebellion in the state senate against Governor Davis, which broke out late yesterday in connection with minimum wage legislation and resulted in the senate overriding the governor's first veto message to the senate, promised today to continue throughout the remainder of the session.

Senator Joseph Rowe, leader of the Cuyahoga county delegation, was said to be circulating a "round robin" among senators asking the governor to get behind the Gilbert liability bill, amending the workmen's compensation law to permit employers to reimburse risks in liability companies and thus carry out an alleged pre-election pledge. Backers of the Gilbert bill were charging that the governor had failed to keep a promise made before his election to secure this amendment.

Minimum Wage Bill Started Now
The governor's open espousal of the Schrimper minimum wage bill and his demand of senators that they support this bill in preference to a substitute recommended by the committee on manufacture and commerce, caused the revolt in the senate. It was opened today with a charge made on the floor of the senate yesterday by Senator Charles Brand, of Champaign county, that the governor had agreed to "take the teeth out of the Schrimper bill" by amendments and later caused Brand to be attacked in the newspapers for not supporting the original Schrimper bill. This charge the governor denied. He said he consented to amendments to the Schrimper bill only on condition that women backing the minimum wage proposal would agree to them and that if they refused to accept the amendments, he would still insist on passage of the Schrimper bill.

The governor charged that the attack made upon him by Brand was prompted by a few others connected with the senate who have been doing everything in their power to embarrass his administration and me as governor.

Cheap Politics, Says Governor
"It is a case of cheap politics," the governor declared, "and is designed to defeat the Schrimper bill."

By a vote of 29 to 8, the senate refused to accept the Schrimper bill and accepted the committee's substitute bill which advocates of minimum wages for women denounce and say they will not accept.

Even if the senate should pass the substitute bill, which is not expected now, the house would refuse to pass it. The probable result is that no minimum wage legislation will be passed at this session.

Following the repudiation of the governor's stand on minimum wage legislation, the senate last night over the governor's veto passed the Chappelear bill—a measure to provide state aid for maintenance of bridges in municipalities where they are on inter-county highways or main market roads. Only three votes, those of Senators Bellver, of Cincinnati, LeFever, of Athens, and Sparks, of Dayton, were for sustaining the governor.

If the strained relations between the governor and the senate continue, it is said, it may seriously interfere with the governor's reorganization plans, unless the senate adjourns sine die. All appointments in the governor's cabinet are subject to confirmation by the senate and this is said to be one reason for the senate's reluctance to side the adjournment. If the assembly stands recessed, it might return and the senate refuse to confirm his appointments.

MRS. IDA GILLASPIE

Dear Miss Wise—I have been a reader of your column for a long time and I have found you give some excellent advice. Now, Dolly, I would like for you to answer a question for me that has worried me for some time. I am a married man, and my wife has been very kind to me for several years. I work every day to make a living for her and my little girl, but she is not satisfied with the amount I am making. It is very often the case when I go to work she wishes that I will do more. I get back home and when I do return she begins to quarrel at me as soon as I get home. I do without things that I need for myself in order to buy for her, but still she says I am not good and all I want to do is lost. And when I go to any place she always "blows up" because I go. I stay at home and care for my little girl very often and let her go to places. Now, Dolly, please don't think this is only one side of the case for it is the very truth of my circumstances. I love my little girl dearly and if it was not for her I would let my wife do the best she could, but I know and realize I cannot care for my little girl. If you please answer this in Friday night's paper, I will be very thankful to you.

H. C. B.

A woman with so little heart does not deserve a good husband. If she does not said anything about separation, ask her frankly if she wants a divorce. If seeing a shame that she cannot be pleased and devote her time to the little girl and you, if she has the proper treatment. You took each other "for better or worse" and

BILLY WHISKERS
FRANCIS TREGE MONTGOMERY

The strange visitors commenced to take basket after basket out of their racks and pick their way to the house by two's and three's. When the last one disappeared through the gate the curious Billy tip-toed after them. He could endure the suspense no longer, so determined to follow and see what they were going to do. When they stealthily around on the veranda peeping in at the windows until they found the "room" in which the family was seated round the table on which was a drop light. They then stepped to the door and knocked. Mr. West opened the door and was greeted with those words: "We all wish you a happy birthday and many of them, and we have come to help you celebrate by giving you a little surprise party. May we come in?"

Mr. West was at first too surprised to speak, but he soon found his voice and gave them a hearty greeting and presently there was great merry-making in the big living room, followed by dancing, for there were musicians among the company and the festivities were kept up until morning. Each guest had brought a basket of goodies to this surprise party and its miscellaneous contents were enjoyed by all.

As soon as Billy had satisfied his curiosity he scampered back to the backyard to spread the news and ended by saying, "I had almost forgotten until I was reminded by this party that today is also my birthday, so let us celebrate it by having a party ourselves. They are so taken up at the house with their own affairs that they will never think of us and we can scamper about, play games and make all the noise we want, with no fear of being heard or disturbed."

"Agreed! Agreed!" they all cried, and could you have looked into the doorway half an hour later you could have thought Hedda had been loosed from the way those animals were frisking and kicking around like so many children.

Here we will leave Billy Whiskers and his friends and say, for the present, "Good-bye," until Billy and

A WIFE IN THE MAKING
BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE "BRIDAL SUITE"

Arm in arm, Edward and Cherry followed Mrs. Randall into the house, stopping at the entrance to admire the beauty of the crimson ramblers which grew in scented profusion all up one side of the porch. Cherry buried her nose deep into a mass of them, then turned to admire the rest of the flowers blooming at her feet.

"This is just the most beautiful garden ever," she exclaimed delightedly to Mrs. Randall, "and I know that I shall be wonderfully happy living here with you and all these flowers. And such a homey, comfortable house, too. You know, Mrs. Randall, I've been raised in the city and in a garden like this, very often. We all had to work to get home and there were very few trips to the country, even in the summer."

"I'm glad you like us, my dear," responded Mrs. Randall, gently, "and I'm sure that you are going to love living here with us, too. But now let's go in and have some food. I'm sure you two young people must be starving. After your long trip, June, tell Phoebe to make breakfast on the table right away," she said, turning to her daughter.

Once inside the spacious house, Cherry exclaimed all over again at the brightness of everything. The roomy hall, the sunny sitting room, which led one right out to the wide veranda, with its long French windows opening to the full sweetness of the flowers without. On the other side of the entrance hall was the drawing room, a big room, and to Cherry's way of thinking, not half so comfy as the other one. At one end of it was a large fireplace, and round the built-in walls hung still portraits of dead and gone Randalls, who looked severely and solemnly down on the new bride, with almost a quizzical expression in their eyes. There, the chairs were set stiffly in their places and a wide satin-covered couch seemed to argue against anyone ever being so rash as to try its smooth depots no matter what the circumstances. The sun only filtered in at the windows which was another point against it, according to Cherry, and there were wax flowers under a glass case, which were more formidable than a row of German spears to her way of thinking.

Up the wide staircase Mrs. Randall led them, to the hall above, from which many doors opened, showing clean, cool bedrooms beyond. At the end of the hall the lady of the manor threw open a door, and welcomed Cherry to her new room. "It used to be Edward's, my dear, and I thought as long as he was so used to it and it was so large and pleasant he'd like to go on having it for you and him."

It was a huge, sunny room, with four large windows. A hickory tree stretched its broad, green arms protectively outside one of the windows, as though extending its blessing to the bride.

"I just love this room, Mrs. — or — M —," said Cherry, stopping confusedly to wonder what she should call Mrs. Randall.

"Mother, please, dear, always with me. Just as much to you as to my Edward," said Mrs. Randall, patting Cherry's hand reassuringly. "I know it's all strange to you now, but you'll get used to it, and to your new mother, too, I hope, dear girl."

But, then come down to breakfast and we'll get acquainted over Aunt Phoebe's hot biscuit and excellent coffee," Mrs. Randall admonished, as she whisked out of the room.

"It's sweet to have you share my old room, darling," said Edward, as he drew his wife into his arms and kissed her tenderly. "Welcome, welcome home, dear, my tiny thing."

DIDN'T ENJOY HEARTY MEAL IN THREE YEARS

I Believe I'm The Happiest Woman In Town Says Mrs. Miller Since Health Was Restored By Tanlac.

"I just believe I am the happiest woman in town," said Mrs. Jennie M. Miller, 24 Maxine Place, East Akron, Ohio, in relating her experience with Tanlac.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," explained Mrs. Miller, "I was so nervous I couldn't hold a spoon to my lips to take a dose without spilling some of it. For three years I had not known what it was to enjoy a meal. Always after eating I had a heavy feeling in the pit of my stomach and just felt miserable. To do my housework was out of the question for I didn't have strength enough to sweep. In fact, I had to spend a great deal of my time in bed. I took medicine until I actually hated the sight of a bottle but nothing helped me and I kept getting worse until I was just a nervous wreck.

"But I had not finished my second bottle of Tanlac before there was all the difference in the world in my condition, and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. My appetite is so good that, honestly, I am almost ashamed to eat as much as I want, and everything agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are steady no kind of noise bothers me and I am so strong and well my housework is more like recreation than work. In fact, I just can't begin to tell all the good Tanlac has done me. I never in my life saw its equal."—Adv.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor of The Times, Dear Sir:

Will you permit me to report the action of the Official Board of The New Boston Methodist Episcopal church on the proposition to compel working men to go to work one hour earlier in the morning to accommodate a few people who desire to play ball in the evening after work. The decision of the Board is EMPHATICALLY against said action. The move was propagated by a few people, presented to the controlling forces of the various factories and mills who signed the petition then was presented to the Ministerial Association with the statement that the School Board had sanctioned it, the factories had and that the City Authorities would do so. The inference was that no difference what the Ministers did the time for going to work would be changed, but that they desired the sanction of the ministers. Every move desires the endorsement of the church for respectability and too often the church has been beguiled into giving its endorsement.

I spoke against the movement, but as the matter was already settled I did not vote at all.

My church and myself oppose the move because it is undemocratic, unfair and therefore unchristian. By the man who does hard manual labor, one hour in the morning, for rest, is worth two in the hot evening, hence it is a hardship to him to force him to go to work an hour earlier. Even a greater hardship is put upon the women who have to care for the homes of these men.

In addition to the hardship put upon these people, this move will greatly reduce the attendance at worship on Sunday, for the people who are deprived of their rest during the week will take it on Sunday.

Putting the service at 10 will not solve the problem for those who are in the habit of having dinner at 11 now time will grow restive as that hour approaches hence they will not attend. Some will say too early and if the hour is changed others will say too late. This is not theory for every pastor knows his experience during the year when every business changed. This will be worse for the R. R. and some other business as will not change.

If the FEW who are zealously working for the change have the good of the community at heart they will permit the people who are directly concerned to have the right to express their desire in this matter. This is serious business to tear up the customs of an entire community.

Just such moves as this by the employers in the past have caused much of the strife that now exists among the employers and employees. For the sake of the fairness hence of Christianity, and to preserve the principle of majority rule in matters of government we oppose the move, and request to either not interfere with the time of going to work or permit the WOMEN and men who are most concerned to vote on the question.

C. A. Hughes
Pastor of the New Boston Methodist Episcopal Church and the Official Board of same.

Now For A Great Saturday's Selling To Close Our Big Anniversary Sale

Saturday at 6 o'clock sees the close of our 47th Anniversary Sale. It will pay you well to make this last day one of sure economies for you by taking advantage of your last opportunity of the thousand specials that are now in effect. Each department will have its numerous specials in effect Saturday, and extra help to wait upon you with the least possible delay. It will be a whole year before another Anderson's Anniversary Sale. The offerings at these sales are too valuable and well known to be passed up without consideration. You have one day left. Put it to good advantage.

Sale Of Pongee Silk, Saturday Only, At 95c A Yard

Our silk section bids adieu to the 47th Anniversary Sale with one of the most interesting special sales that we have had. We offer quite a quantity of 33-inch imported Jap pongee silk on the closing day of the sale at only 95c a yard. This is not a cheap pongee that usually runs imperfect and full of holes, but the real quality of high grade pongee. It is popular for numerous uses, such as dresses, blouses, men's shirts, draperies, pillow covers, etc. The quantity of this pongee is, of course, limited, and, if buying is too heavy, will not last the day through, so come early and be sure and get what you want.

Saturday Sale Of Silk Jersey At $1.69

As a companion special to the pongee silk sale for Saturday, we offer a sale on silk jersey, or tricolette, yard wide, one of the most popular silk fabrics on the market at only $1.69 a yard. The colors are navy, black, brown, copen, tan, henna and white. This material is fine for skirts, dresses, etc. Don't forget that this is a one day sale only and the price is $1.69.

Fear Vague Promises

The Germans have approximated the sums asked by the Allies, but, as indicated by the British counter-questions everything depends upon the details of the proposal and not the general principles or vague promises of the German note.

Meanwhile the United States Government is pursuing a wary course, fascinating indeed in its disingenuousness. The American Government doesn't want to close the door to a settlement of the reparations problem which it realizes means so much to the economic condition of the whole world. The Washington Government, on the other hand, doesn't want to adopt any course that would encourage Germany to believe American has deserted her associates in the war. The league of victors in the war is still intact, although Germany sees here and there a wavering upon which she bases a flustering hope of division in the Allied ranks.

Hughes Has Complete Charge

Secretary Hughes has the whole situation well in hand. President Harding has so much confidence in him that he went off to Hampton Roads to review the Atlantic Fleet and gave the Secretary of State complete authority to act ahead without further reference to him. This is somewhat of a change over the Wilson method. The custom in the preceding administration was for the president to permit no action to be taken on important matters of foreign policy without his explicit con-

The last Cabinet meeting on Tuesday gave Mr. Harding an opportunity to get the advice of his colleagues and a course of action was determined upon. But every hour brings changes and Mr. Hughes is compelled to take full responsibility for the course of the United States Government.

ington until about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Within an hour the French and British ambassadors here had unofficial copies for the information of their Governments. As stated in these dispatches and now confirmed by a cablegram from Edwin L. James, Paris correspondent of the New York Times, the Allied diplomats had a chance to say informally to Mr. Hughes what they thought of the German proposal. Of course it was unofficial, informal and quite personally, and quite sufficient to let Mr. Hughes know the new proposal was not acceptable to the Allies. Mr. James cabled for instance: "French diplomats are very pleased with the graceful manner, in which Secretary Hughes permitted the Paris Government to place a veto on the German proposals and thus halt them. It is noted here that as soon as he got the proposals, Mr. Hughes gave Ambassador Jusserand the opportunity to point out that they did not measure up to what France had demanded. Ambassador Jusserand called this fact and last night Paris confirmed his opposition."

Hughes Has Not Had Fingers Burned. The foregoing throws an interesting light on State Department details that they had received formal notification from the Allied Governments and proves that the American Government has not been in the position of formally offering the German note to the Allies. The Department of State has been eager to have as much time as possible for the exchange of views between the Allied Governments and Washington and also to give the Allies full opportunity to change their minds if they found anything in the note that would permit it to be used as a suitable basis for negotiation. Secretary Hughes has handled the matter with all the delicacy of an experienced diplomat and thus far, contrary to the expectation in some Allied quarters, the eminent Secretary has not had his fingers burned by the cross-current of interests involved in the reparations controversy.

tion of the Ruhr district by the French.

Will Discuss Invasion of Germany. As matters stand today, the subjects to be considered at tomorrow's meeting will be details of the French plans for an invasion of the Ruhr region, and the delineation of the frontier between Poland and Germany in Upper Silesia. The report on the result of the Silesian plebiscite is in the hands of the Allied chiefs, but has not as yet been made public.

France, Belgium and Great Britain appeared today to be united in opposition to acceptance of the German proposals as a basis of discussions of new negotiations. Italy's viewpoint has not been learned.

It was believed official invitation to send a representative to the meeting of the supreme council had been sent to the United States, but official circles were silent as to whether any definite answer had been received from Washington today.

France Wants Direct Action. PARIS, April 29.—Premier Briand left for London early today to attend the meeting of the supreme allied council on Saturday. He will appear before that body with the support of the French parliament, public and press, which is unanimous in demanding "direct action" in enforcing penalties against Germany in default of her payments of reparations.

The cabinet council met yesterday and reached a final decision on the attitude to be taken by the representatives of France at the London conference. It also finished consideration of measures to be taken for the occupation of the Ruhr region.

Hitchcock Opens Fight On Peace Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—Adoption of the Knox peace resolution would be an attempt to dictate the international policies of President Harding, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations committee, charged today in the senate.

The Nebraska senator attacked the measure as "idle and ineffective" and declared that it was being "railroaded" through like a gas franchise through a city council, "when the votes can be depended upon." The resolution is to be voted on tomorrow.

Early Of Derby To Continue Parley With Sinn Feiners

LONDON, April 29.—Conversations between the Earl of Derby and Irish Sinn Fein representatives will be resumed in a few days when the Earl returns to the island, said the London Times today. He will take no written proposals from the British government, but will be empowered to speak as Prime Minister Lloyd George's accredited envoy, the newspaper said.

It is understood the object of his mission to Ireland is generally to prepare a way to a truce, during which it will be possible for the elections in Southern Ireland to be held in perfect freedom. There have been many rumors regarding the terms the government will offer, the Times declared, but nothing has developed that has given a clear outline of the conditions to be imposed.

Assertion was made by the Daily Mail that arrangements have been made for the Earl of Derby to have a personal conversation with Eamon deValera.

BIBLE TEACHINGS ABOUT EDUCATION

H. A. WRIGHT

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom"—Proverbs 1:7. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy might. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart; and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down and when thou risest up."—Deut. 6:5-7. The idea of studying the Bible is very old. Indeed it is one of God's commands, and He began to tell His people to do it so long ago that we cannot be sure just when it was. But we know it was many hundreds of years before Jesus came, or before David lived. Perhaps it was in Moses' time, perhaps even before then. The boys and girls of that time did not have all of the studies we may learn of the Judges, or Saul, or David, or Solomon, or Daniel, or of Jesus. They had only what is in the first five books of the Bible.

Jesus Christ being the Son of God did not prevent Him from developing a perfectly normal life just like any other lad. He kept Himself from sin. As a Jewish child He received His education as did other Jewish boys. He was taught at home and in the schools of the day. He attended the Synagogue at Nazareth. His chief text-book was the Old Testament, or at least those portions to which He had access. How well He mastered His lessons and how extensively He read and understood them is manifested when He went up to the Temple at Jerusalem at the age of twelve. He could hold His own in conversation and interpretation with the doctors of the law. Christ gave evidence of His true education by the pure Saxon—"English unadorned." Take this passage for example, where with one exception every word is formed of one single syllable, and belongs to the Saxon tongue: "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."—Proverbs 22:6. Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man.—Luke 2:52. We have but few views of Jesus Christ in His earthly life preceding His public ministry. The whole of His life from twelve years of age to thirty is covered by this one verse. In His human life there was growth and development. It was normal and healthy. It was what should be for every one of us. He probably studied as did other boys of His age, learning the Scripture and living by the divine law. He grew in wisdom, learning with a pure and clear mind what there was for Him to master. He grew in favor with God, living a true and holy life. He grew in favor with men as His life was righteous and helpful and good and kind. His life was an example to young and old, as He took on in human life, the highest attainments possible to a human being. Growing "in favor with God and man," God's chosen people loved and obeyed Him and did as He commanded. They taught their children what God had said and had done for them; also they must have taught them many other things, for Jesus, who had just the same chance other Jewish boys had, could read and write and knew a great deal about the world. Education includes schools, churches, books, pictures and music, and the whole experience of life; for we begin to go to school the moment we are born and our earthly education ends only when we die. The foundations of all education, whether two thousand years ago or today, or any training which leaves out God, faith in Jesus Christ, and goodness leaves out the bed-rock and builds on sand. Christianity has the deeper, truer approach, and this brings us face to face with education; for education, if we think of it largely enough, is the real way of making human nature what it ought to be. It means literally to bring up a child, physically or mentally, to train a person morally or spiritually. Education aims to lead out, train, develop our best in body, mind and soul, and, therefore, make us in every way all that we ought to be. Christian teaching makes most of changed human nature; radical social teaching makes most of changed social forms. Human nature makes society, and society turns about and greatly influences human nature. But when all is said and done, human nature is the bigger thing. We shall gain very little by remaking the forms of our world unless we ourselves are remade. The type of education the Jewish nation received when Ezra the Scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood and read from the Book of the Law to them was what saved them as a nation. (Neh. 8:1) and the nations of the earth that observe the same Book of the Law today will be able to stand. But in so much as they fail that country shall fail; and that community that fails to teach its people the Book of the Law will become a community of crime. In fact any family that fails to teach God's Word to the children in that home, and neglects to have them attend the Sunday school for right teaching will produce criminals. That individual that fails to know the Way, the Truth and the Life in Christ Jesus as His Savior, has failed to have the true education and religious joy that is in store for him.

If You Get Sick

It's a Great Deal
Your Own Fault

Many people have found the secret of keeping well. Eminent physicians tell us ninety per cent of all sickness is directly or indirectly traceable to a lack of elimination of waste matter from the bowels.

AUTOINTOXICATION

Will Be Brought To Trial

Tennis Courts In Park

CHICAGO, April 29.—At least five of the 18 men indicted in connection with the 1919 world series scandal, will be brought to trial not later than July, as a result of a plea filed today by their attorneys.

Michael Ahearn, representing "Duck" Weaver, "Swede" Risberg, "Happy" Felsb, Claude Williams and Fred McMahon, filed a petition with Judge Charles A. McDonald for an immediate trial of his clients. Under the Illinois law the indictments against the men automatically will be quashed unless the trial starts by July.

George Gorman, assistant state's attorney, in charge of prosecution of the case, said he probably would be ready for a trial by June. It was indicated that he will not call separate trials for the men, whose petition was filed today, but will bring all the cases into court at one time.

All of the players affected by the petition were in court except McMahon, who is in California. Mr. Ahearn said McMahon would come to Chicago whenever he was needed.

LIKE LEMONADE.

You can now buy real epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is pure epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade. How To Round Out Your Face and Figure With Firm Healthy Flesh

This folks who want to quickly get some good, firm solid flesh on their bones, fill out the hollows, and sunken cheeks with strong, healthy tissue and build up increased energy and vitality should try taking a little Vitamin.

Vitamin is a tiny concentrated tablet containing those acid-salt, health-giving substances of Nature—the vitamins—which Science now knows are destroyed in the cooking of most everyday foods.

If you are thin, underweight, haggard, drawn-looking or lack energy and endurance, you will find it well worth while to make this simple test. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Vitamin—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking Vitamin regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. It is not only a question of how much better you look and feel or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Remember that there is no substitute for vitamins just as there is no substitute for fresh air, fresh water or sunlight.

IMPORTANT! While the amazing health-building value of Vitamin has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anemia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a general weakness physical and mental condition, it should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. Be sure to remember the name VI-TA-MON.

All good druggists have it in stock.

"Vi-ta-mon" Positively Will Put On Firm Flesh and Increase Energy When Taken With Every Meal.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 29.—The stock market developed a firm to strong undertone at the outset of today's dealings, despite prospects of tighter money, as indicated by yesterday's late advance of call loans to 7 percent. Oil, steel, equipments, tobacco, textiles and motor specialties shared in the initial movement at advances which extended from liberal fractions to 1½ points. Rails were the only issues to lag, although recent statements of earnings have been of a more encouraging character. Early exchange rates in London eased slightly from yesterday's highest quotations.

Improving the opening and renewal rates of 7 percent for call money the market made further upward progress during the lively forenoon. In extent of gains, oils continued to lead, advancing to 1 to 4 points. Equipments were next in favor, Baldwin Locomotive featuring that division at a gain of almost three points. Steels extended their rise with Crucible as the foremost feature and motor specialties in the rubber group gained 1 to 2½ points. International Paper, Famous Players, American Can and Johns Express were among the miscellaneous issues at 1 to 3 point advances. Gains among rails were limited to 1 point in St. Paul, common and preferred. Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Reading.

Trading in the stock market today was again active and, but much of the early advance was forfeited when Mexican sales developed pronounced weakness. Sales approximately 1,100,000 shares.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 29.—Wheat strength showed itself in the fresh market today with attention directed to the sentiment of the stock on hand here available for delivery on May contracts. Heavy buying on the part of a house with eastern connections tended further to lift prices. Some unfavorable advices from crop experts were also the subject of notice. Initial quotations, which ranged from ¾ to 1½ higher, with May 1.20 to 1.30 and July 1.05 to 1.10, were followed by material gains all around.

Corn advanced with wheat. After opening ½c off to ½c up, including July at 60½ to 61, the market scored a moderate general advance.

The close was steady, at ¾ @ ¾ ½c for July, with July 60 to 60½.

Options were governed by the rise in other cereals, starting ½c to ¾c higher, with July 37½ to 38, and remaining firm.

"COLORADO"

Dakota Lawrence, Star of Royal Northwest Mounted Police Photoplays will be Here Tomorrow in Another Great Picture, "Fangs of the Wolf". Also Another Two Reel Western and a Two Reel Comedy.

Mr. Totts will close his week's bill tomorrow afternoon and night with another double program including two thrilling westerns and a comedy feature. The big feature of the day's bill is "Fangs of the Wolf" another of those exciting Arrow productions and a story of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police with Dakota Lawrence and John Lowell as the stars and surrounded with a capable cast. The other western is a two reel and just as full of action as any photoplay of the broad plains could be. Then comes the comedy scream "Who's our Grocer" with Hank Mann as the star laugh producer. Mr. Totts wishes to thank the public for the splendid patronage accorded him during his 15 years in this city and he would appreciate their attendance next week, his last week, when he will present all his feature photoplays. Next week's programs will be of the very best.

Frank Mayo, Hero of Romance, in Augustus Thomas' Great Stage Play, "Colorado," Will Be An Extra Added Feature At The Eastland Theatre Tomorrow, Matinee Only—Shown In Addition To Thos. H. Ince's "Lying Lips."

A torrent of water roaring through the tunnels of a gold mine hundreds of feet below the surface.

The spectacle of a man fighting to save a girl from the flood.

That is just one of the breath-taking thrills of "Colorado," the Universal photoplay which comes to the Eastland Theatre tomorrow, matinee, with Frank Mayo in the starring role and beautiful Gloria Hope playing opposite as the heroine in this film version of the famous stage play of the same name by Augustus Thomas.

Colorado carries the spectator over burning desert sands to a desolate ranch where Mayo, as Frank Austin, finds an oasis of love and, incidentally, a gold mine.

How he saves the mine from the same men who are keeping him from the girl he loves is another high light of drama which Reeves Eason, the director, has thrust to the screen with striking realism.

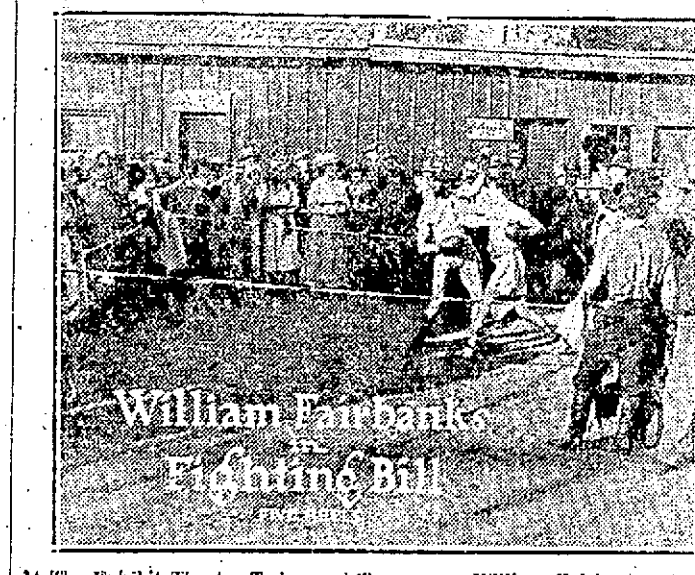

Closely following the release of "Honor Bound" and "Tiger Trap," "Colorado" is said by those who have seen it, to be faster in action and even more romantic than those two recent plays in which the vigorous Mayo scored so emphatically.

In sharp contrast to the gentle and appealing Gloria Hope, who appears as the sweetheart of the hero, there is to be seen Charles LeMayne, playing the crafty Hurlbert; Rosa Gore and Dan Crimmins in amusing character roles; Lillian West and Charles Newton as an interesting couple of the West and popular Leonard Chapman in the guise of a shifty land-grabber.

The splendid cast gives added zest to the film story and promises an unusual popularity for the run of this feature.

Thos. H. Ince's Great Drama of Life and Love

"LYING LIPS"

STORY BY MAY EDINGTON

All star cast featuring House Peters and Florence Victor

An Associated Producers Production

Everyone is Talking About "Thos. H. Ince's 'Lying Lips,' Playing At The Eastland Theatre This Week—All Records Smashed For The First Four Days Showing on This Picture — Only Two Nights are Left in Which To See It—Come Early—Tonight and Bring the Whole Family."

PROGRAM

A—Overture—"Prison Scene from the Opera 'Faust'—Eastland Orchestra.

B—Pathe presents Sunnii Pollard in "Bibbling Over"—A Rollic comedy.

C—The Eastland Review in "Pathe-colors.

D—Thos. H. Ince's Great Drama, "Lying Lips"—7 Acts.

Selecting as the theme for his spectacular drama the two most vital and mysterious elements of human existence, Ince has built carefully and surely with an unusual and thoughtful story, superb staging and production, a featured cast of talented players and flawless direction, a drama of exceptional merit.

Contrast in Locale

Remarkable contrast and transition have been utilized to their fullest extent in making the picture one of the most vitally interesting, vividly spectacular productions of the season. The scenes flash from one colorful extreme to another, from the forests and prairies of Canada to the drawing-rooms of the English aristocracy, from thrilling shipwreck scenes on the North Atlantic to gripping situations within the boudoir of a British manor house.

From the moment that Thomas H. Ince first selected the story, Edington story as an Associated Producers special, nothing was left undone to make it a super-production in every sense of the word. Ince, himself, supervised every scene of the story, and personally directed many of the most elaborate episodes. The ideas and efforts of the entire Ince organization were concentrated upon making "Lying Lips" a feature that is expected to rank with the screen masterpieces of all time.

In the leading male role of Blair Cornwall, a young Canadian ranchman, House Peters is said to present a characterization superior to any of his career. Florence Victor, conceded queen, life and love, Thomas H. Ince has created in "Lying Lips," his latest production for the Associated Producers, a photoplay which, it is stated, surpasses the most monumental of all his works, the unforgettable "Civilization."

The new special, in which House Peters and Florence Victor are co-starring in an all-star cast, has been announced as the feature attraction at the Eastland.

Upon the foundation of the power-ful critics to be one of the most beautiful women before the public today, outdoes any of her previous efforts as Naue Abbott, a daughter of the English aristocracy, her piquant beauty and unusual poise and grace being one of the outstanding features of "Lying Lips."

Joseph Kilgour, in a leading character role, Margaret Livingston, Edith Yorke, Margaret Campbell, and other featured players, complete the exceptional cast.

Spectacular Scenes

"Lying Lips" was adapted to the screen by Bradley King, who has added materially to the power and color of the story by her skillful character portrayals and her clever handling of the gripping and tense situations.

Fight Fans To Enjoy Fistic Treat Tonight

Martin And Webb Sure To Put Up Great Battle In Auditorium

When Johnny Martin, of New York, and Young Webb, of Dayton, step into the ring tonight for their ten round battle, local fans will have two of the best and hardest hitting lightweights in the fistic game.

They are aspirants for Benny Leonard's championship crown and no doubt will put up a sizzling battle. Candidly speaking it is the greatest match this city has ever had and the Auditorium should be packed with fight fans. They are sure to get a great run for their money.

Both boys are in the proverbial pink of condition and will not stall a minute. It is not in their make up. They will weigh 137 pounds per their agreement or they will forfeit $50.

Webb has met all the classy lightweights in Ohio and Martin has met such crackerjacks as Benny Leonard, Lew Tendler and Willie Jackson.

The attractive card will also include an eight round semi-final between Kid Reisinger and Nig Blair, a six round go between Doc Price and Marvin Wallace and a four round go.

The first preliminary will start sharply at 8:30, and no doubt the Auditorium will have its capacity tested tonight.

The card is a dandy and the Portsmouth Athletic Club is banking on the house being sold out tonight.

Mrs. White Seeks Divorce

Alleging habitual drunkenness and extreme cruelty and declaring that he has threatened to cut her throat and has thrown various objects at her, including a clock, chair and knife, and that on one occasion while she was confined to her bed with nervous prostration, even hurled a whiskey bottle, which hit her in the head, Margaret White, 1414 Summit street, seeks a divorce and alimony with custody of their two children, through an action instituted Friday in Common Pleas court against Elmer White, 2003 Robinson avenue, plasterer and carpenter, whom she married in this city on Jan. 6, 1906.

In her petition filed through Attorneys Miller & Seal, the plaintiff says she obtained a divorce from White on the grounds of habitual drunkenness and that she later, in May, 1919, remarried him on his promise to abstain from the use of liquor and to better. Now she asserts that in a very short time after the second ceremony the defendant was back to his old ways, declaring that he has continued ever since to squander his means for drink whenever he can obtain it. She further alleges White has been abusive toward their little girl, Goldie, having choked and threatened to kill her, and a temporary injunction was granted by Judge Thomas restraining the defendant from molesting his family in any manner.

Suit In Foreclosure

Jacob Terrell filed an action in Common Pleas court Thursday seeking to recover a judgment of $712.30 with interest from April 30, 1920, on a promissory note against Bethel U. Parsons and others. He also seeks foreclosure of a mortgage on two lots in Millbrook addition to New Boston, given to secure payment of the note, and asks that the property be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of his claim.

James and Maggie Culver and the Citizens' Saving & Loan company are made parties to the suit and the court is asked that they be required to set up their claims and interest, if any, in the premises. The suit was filed through Attorneys Miller & Seal.

Final Account Filed

S. S. Haldeman, as guardian of Joseph and Blanche Gilmore, minors, filed his final account in probate court Thursday, showing a schedule of $294.

Cognovit Note Judgement

Judgment for the sum of $11,894.83 including interest to date, was awarded the plaintiff on a cognovit note by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday in the case of John L. Whitten against A. H. Richardson, which was filed by Attorneys Pardon and McCall.

The note was given on Sept. 30, 1920, and was made payable to The American Carrara Marble company.

Fremont Denies Guilt

Albert Fremont, New Boston young man, indicted for larceny in connection with the stealing of automobile tires from the Daniels garage, Scitoville, early in March, appeared before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Thursday afternoon and pleaded not guilty. The accused was released on $500 bond pending trial. He is represented by Attorneys Blair and Blair.

Youth Dismissed

Orville Welch, 17 years old, son of William Welch, who lives near Scitoville, was before the juvenile court Friday on a delinquency charge and at the conclusion of the hearing the lad was dismissed and sent back to his work at a brick plant. The evidence disclosed that the youth had been driven from home by his stepmother and that he was doing the best he could under the circumstances.

Warranted Over To Infirmary

Daniel Smith, 60, was ordered warranted over to the county infirmary Friday by Judge Giffland when he appeared in probate court to meet a charge of neglecting his two children. Smith is in the last stages of consumption and an investigation made by social welfare workers of the living apartments of the family at 1120 Sixteenth street revealed a deplorable condition and resulted in complaints against the parents. At the hearing Smith told the court that his wife, America Smith, died Thursday night, taking the two children with her. He thought she went to the home of relatives at Springfield.

Mrs. Smith, who is said to be mentally unbalanced, was ordered brought into court, if found, to be punished for contempt.

To Administer Case Estate

In probate court Friday Bertie M. Chabot was named to administer the estate of her late father, James J. Case, who died at his home in this city, April 11, leaving his property valued at $1350 under his will admitted to probate Friday, to his two sons, Edward B. Case, Norwood, and Claude Case, Connersville, Ind., and daughter, Mrs. Chabot, 3610 Summit street, this city.

Guardian Sought

Application for the appointment of a guardian for Henry Tienan, Carey's Run man, who is in bad physical condition as the result of a severe attack of influenza two years ago, was made in probate court Friday.

Tienan has lost his eyesight and he is almost helpless from a stroke of paralysis.

and Miss Georgia Backus, and Heath Wood, in the leading roles enacted the parts of Jenny and Jack Austin, the bride and groom, to perfection, handling their lines in a splendidly professional manner, and with excellent stage presence.

From the opening strains of "I Love You Truly" on their wedding night to the closing of the curtains on the last tragic scene, the plot was one of intense interest, a romantic drama of startling effect. Miss Backus as the jealous bride, suspecting her husband of things he never dreamed of doing, as is the usual case kept her audience spell-bound with her splendid portrayal of one whose mind may become so poisoned against her loved one and infatuated with her.

The wedding scene, with the bride and her maids, furnished a delightful bit of amusement, together with Mrs. Cullingham, a bubbling little matron with her very effeminate son, Peter, were among the guests. The most prominent of the maids, was Miss Ruth Chester, enacted by Margaret Welch, who was the secret bride of Geoffrey Tillman, brother of Jenny. The trouble began on the wedding night of Jenny and Jack when Jack is made the confidante of Geoffrey, the wayward brother, who had been married in secret to Maggie the maid during his college days; and who also later married Ruth. This situation is made known to Jack, who endeavors to straighten things out, all the while keeping the heart-breaking facts from Jenny and her parents. Jenny manages to catch words of the various conversations which awakens suspicions in her and causes her to make accusations against her husband who is unusually patient with her and loyal to the others. Miss Lillian Halliday, as Maggie, had a most effective role, while Elsie O. Smith as Geoffrey was excellent in the person of the brother who finds himself between two fires, adored by both Maggie and Ruth, his wives.

Janet French as Mrs. Cullingham and William Lach as Peter, her son, kept the audience decidedly amused during their appearances on the stage. Hayward Anderson a local boy who appeared as the elderly gentleman in "Oh Mr. Omar," given by the Scarlet Mask Society a few weeks ago, had a similar part in last night's play, enacting the role of Mr. Tillman, Jenny's father, and was received with much applause upon his first appearance. Dorothy Hanna as Mrs. Tillman enacted her part as an elderly woman, sharing honors with Mr. Anderson.

Each of the minor characters were equally good in their respective parts as follows: Susan, the cousin, Anita Seeds; Miss Grace Dane, Miss Belle Westing; Miss Gertrude Wood, bridesmaids; housemaid at Tillman's, Elsie Dunn; Butler at Tillman's, Walter L. Davis; Footman at Tillman's, Mark Miles; Peter Cullingham, a delightfully effeminate young person; William E. Lach; Mrs. Lopp, Helen Jones; Currie, her daughter, Marian Morrey; a French couple, Jessie Morrey and Carroll Burtanger; a German couple, Mildred Smith and J. L. Beatty; a guide, John K. Boardman; a driver, John Waldron, Jr.

Before the performance and between acts, the Czerwinski Trio, composed of Mrs. S. B. Timmons, pianist, Mrs. A. L. Witham, violinist and Miss Alice Blake, violinist, furnished delightful musical selections.

As the Scarlet Mask boys won their way into the hearts of local persons, so have the Strollers Dramatic Club members, who are said to be presenting their most successful play in the production, "The Girl With the Green Eyes."

The Woman's City Club members under whose auspices the show was brought here, are appreciative to everyone who helped make it the great success it was in this city.

Following the play, the High School gymnasium was thrown open to the young folk who danced and enjoyed the hours until after midnight. During their stay in this city the Strollers were entertained in the homes of the various members of the club, having today for Ashland, Ky., to appear there tonight.

Editor of the Times:

Dear Sir: I'll admit I'm getting tired of hearing people rave against Daylight Savings, because of the hardship and injustice it will do to the working men and working women of Portsmouth. These people are either grossly stupid, or else they know nothing of the petition in favor of Daylight Saving that was presented to Council last year, and signed by many thousands of employers, no-working men and women. The petition was circulated through factories, mills and stores and working men signed it by the thousands, even those who lived on the West Side, and in Kentucky. Nor were the signatures all men. As it was pointed out in the debate before Council, hundreds of women's names, married and unmarried, appeared on that petition.

So let those who grow fearful over the fact that Daylight Saving is being forced on the working people of Portsmouth, who do not want it; let them remember that the most monstrous petition ever presented to Council on any subject at any time, was the petition asking for Daylight Saving, and signed by the working men and working women of Portsmouth.

ONE OF THE SIGNERS.

College Prof. Made Good Moonshine

BOSTON, April 29.—Louis Agassiz Shaw, assistant instructor in applied physiology at the Harvard medical school, was arrested by federal authorities today charged with manufacturing liquor at his home, 52 Marlboro street, in the Backbay section of the city.

Prohibition agents who raided the house said they found an elaborate still in operation on the top floor in a room adjoining the ball room. They seized the apparatus together with five gallons of moonshine whiskey, which is described as an excellent product. Fifty gallons of mash was destroyed by the officers. At the request of Shaw, they said, the still was carried out through a rear door and taken away in a taxicab.

The agents were told, they said, that the liquor was frequently served at dances and other social affairs. Shaw, has maintained a private research laboratory at his Marlboro street address.

Stiller Is Fined $500

Admitting guilt of a charge of unlawfully possessing a moonshine still Friday afternoon, Frederick Stiller, 36 years old, South Portsmouth carpenter was handed a fine of $500 and costs by Judge Sprague.

Ferguson was taken in a raid Thursday night by the police on the building at 222 Second street where the officers uncovered a still of the wash boiler pattern together with other necessary equipment for the manufacture of liquor, including two barrels containing about 90 gallons of corn mash.

The defendant admitted ownership of the outfit which was found on the third floor of the building and contended that he made the still himself a few days ago but had not operated it, claiming that he was just preparing to make a run.

Ferguson, who claimed that he only recently returned from Houston, Texas, was arrested last November by local officers on a charge of making liquor on a boat on the Ohio river, West Side, and was fined in Spillie Mates court for the offense, the police say.

Saturday and Sunday excepted for two weeks from May 2nd. The institute is presented by the Social Recreation Sub-Committee of the Portsmouth Leisure-Time Committee. Mrs. Edward T. The institute is open to men and women of over sixteen years of age. It is designed to develop leaders of play and games in order that social evenings of all kinds may be made more interesting by the ability of these play leaders. It will also teach supervision of children's play. Courses of this nature are now given as a part of the regular University courses in Social Work and Recreation. The course is free to all men and women over sixteen years of age. All members of the class will be asked to volunteer their services in leading games or plays in the schools, churches or clubs, or to aid in planning the recreational activities of Portsmouth. This is a great opportunity for the young men and women, and for mothers and fathers to study the question of play and to take a practical course in game leadership. Courses of this nature are given in universities for which the students must pay and the Bureau of Community Service has made it possible to offer this course free to the people of Portsmouth. This opportunity should not be overlooked. Following is a program of the course:

TRADE MARK

$625 f. o. b. Detroit

The Fordson saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time.
The Fordson plows, harrows, drills as much ground in the same time as from four to six horses. (Many farmers say it does the work of eight horses.)
The Fordson does for the farmer just what machine power does for the manufacturer—it enables him to manufacture his products at less cost. And that is what the farmer wants to do; grow his crops more cheaply and make his margin of profit greater. And the Fordson will help him to do it.
Let us prove this to you by a demonstration on your own farm. Just phone us or drop us a card.

What You Don't Know
There is a flippant observation long used by people prone to secretly violate their obligations to others, to the effect that "what a person doesn't know will not hurt him." It is true, of course. We are all hurt by things we do not know. Ignorance leaves many a bruise on a man which knowledge would have enabled him to avoid.
Hugh Miller, the Scotch stone mason and quarryman, who became a famous geologist eighty years ago, wrote "The Old Red Sandstone," a book still read. He began his book with two paragraphs of particular interest to business men. They follow:
"My advice to young workmen desirous of bettering their circumstances and adding to the amount of their enjoyment is very simple. Do not seek happiness in what is misnamed pleasure. Seek it, rather, in what is termed study. Keep your conscience clear, your curiosity fresh and embrace every opportunity of cultivating your mind."
"Learn to make right use of your eyes. The commonest things are worth looking at. There is more true philosophy in the Bible than in every work of every skeptic that ever wrote, and we would all be miserable creatures without it. And do not let any class get ahead of you in intelligence."
Hugh Miller's suggestions to "young workmen" are just as good for the man of sixty as the youngster of twenty. Indeed, one never grows too old to learn, and the rewards of study and observation in later years are rich indeed.
Entertaining Chickens
The Ansonia Hotel in New York has every appearance from the outside of being a pleasant place in which to dwell for those who enjoy hotel life. Its interior creates the same impression of luxury and comfort as its exterior.
But—it all depends. Mrs. W. E. D. Stokes lived there with a husband who raised chickens in his apartment—as many as 45 at a time. Not Broadway chickens, but the house-to-house kind. Living with chickens, to say nothing of a companion who wanted them all around him, was un-

Questions AND Answers
(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing "The Portsmouth Daily Times," Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. Q. How many grains are there in a bushel of wheat? In a pound of wheat?—J. E. D.
A. The number of grains in a bushel of wheat has been given as varying from 44,550 to 571,940. The number in a pound varies from 7,500 to 24,000; from 377 determinations the average was 12,000 grains.
Q. What is the name of the machine which weighs the earth?—G. J.
A. The Naval Observatory says the mass of the earth has been determined by means of the Torsion Balance, an instrument for measuring very minute forces. By means of this instrument the attractive force of a large metal ball is accurately measured, and by comparing this force with the earth's attraction the mass of the earth may be ascertained.

A. The Navy Department says that B. C. D. means Bad Conduct Discharge.
Q. In migrating, which bird travels farthest?—A. J. D.

Q. My eyelashes are very scanty. What can I do to promote their growth?—M. R. W.
A. To stimulate the growth of eyelashes, melt yellow vaseline and put it on the roots of the lashes with a tiny camel's hair brush, being careful not to get any of the oil in the eyes.
Q. What is meant by a plant community?—J. M. S.
A. Plant society, association or community are terms given to an assemblage of plants growing in a common habitat under similar life conditions.
Q. Who discovered platinum?—L. B.

Q. Can state banks issue bank notes? If not, when was the privilege taken from them?—C. C. H.
A. The power of state banks to issue such notes ceased in 1864. They are today banks of deposit and deposit only.
Q. Where is the largest petrified forest in the United States?—G. W. S.
A. The Bureau of Forestry says that the petrified forest of Arizona is considered the largest in existence and may soon be put in a class with the National Parks of the United States.

WILL FORM KIWANIS CLUB HERE
At an enthusiastic meeting held in the Elks club Friday noon steps were taken to organize a Kiwanis club in Portsmouth.
C. L. Thayer, Jr., field representative of the International Kiwanis club with headquarters in Chicago was present and in detail explained the work of this well known organization. He said a branch was needed here and he was confident that it would flourish.
At the conclusion of his talk a temporary organization was effected when Dr. O. D. Tatje was elected president, L. W. Bragdon, vice president, and Hugh H. Higgins, secretary and treasurer.
Several short talks were made at the close of the luncheon and the indications are that Portsmouth will soon boast of a real live Kiwanis club.
Those at today's meeting were Dr. O. D. Tatje, L. W. Bragdon, Hugh H. Higgins, Roger Selby, Ben H. Dillon, Henry Heer, J. H. Finney, Glenn Davis, Mayor Wm. Gableman and Samuel Horchow.
Mr. Thayer will spend several weeks here in the formation of the local branch of the organization.

Meantime the defendants are out on $1000 bond each.

Mr. Gahm To Attend Meeting
County Farm Agent Walter E. Gahm left for Columbus by automobile Friday afternoon to attend a conference of the Boys' and Girls' Club Department workers at Ohio State University Saturday. Sunday night or Monday morning he will return with L. F. Tabor, farm management demonstrator, and his assistant, C. R. Arnold. These men, with Mr. Gahm, will hold meetings in various parts of the county early next week to summarize the farm account books of a number of farmers. Monday night a meeting will be held at Havertill for farmers in that community. Tuesday night's meetings will be held at Watersburg and Empire Grange, and Wednesday night at Lucasville and Sedan. All farmers who have these books should attend these meetings, and any who wish to start keeping books should be present. The bankers of Portsmouth furnish the farm account books.

Pleads Not Guilty
John "Chief" Walker, a well known North End colored man, pleaded not guilty when brought into Municipal court to meet a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses made by Mrs. Helen Gordon, colored, 1211 Union street, who failed to appear and whose case was continued until Saturday morning in order to bring her into court.
The complaint alleges that Walker obtained $3 additional on a necktie which Mrs. Gordon had pawned by representing himself as her husband.

United Brethren To Be Photographed Sunday
A special request has come from Dayton headquarters for a picture of all Portsmouth United Brethren to be displayed at the sessions of the General Conference at Indianapolis, Indiana, May 14th to the 28th.
A big effort is being made to eclipse all former attendance at Sunday school and church next Sunday in order that this picture may be as large as possible. The goal has been set for at least 600, but if all United Brethren and those who prefer the United Brethren Church and Sunday school would be present the attendance would doubtless go beyond the thousands and mark.
The Friendly Fellowship Class will also have a picture made for the same purpose and they are working for 150 men in this class.
All United Brethren of Portsmouth and friends who do not attend other Sunday schools are urged to be present and appear in the picture. The time will be as usual, nine o'clock, old time, or ten o'clock new time.

TOT WANDERS 10 SQUARES FROM HOME
Forester Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of 1513 Third street is not yet three years of age but that did not prevent him from demonstrating to his parents and neighborhood friends Thursday afternoon that he could walk over ten squares away from home, cross busy street intersections, street car tracks and the railroad tracks without assistance. While the child was taking things interestingly he had his mother and almost the entire neighborhood "up in the air" over his several home's disappearance. He left home about one o'clock and was not located until about four and when he was found he was on Offshore street near the cemetery. Mrs. Thomas Duppy and Miss Charlotte Duppy who were conducting a search for the child found him.
Mrs. Chapman was busy washing the dinner dishes when her son slipped away from the house and wandered out Offshore street ten squares.
Mrs. Duppy and daughter after assisting in the search about the neighborhood got into their automobile and drove up one street and down another in search of the missing child. When Mrs. Duppy attempted to induce the tot to return home with her in the machine he refused to move, crying for his mother. Mrs. Duppy remained with the child until Miss Duppy went to the Chapman home and brought the mother to Offshore street hill and to her lost son, who "readily consented" to give up his wanderlust and return home.

Unemployed Conference
CHICAGO, April 29.—James Eads How, known as the "millionaire laborer," and his staff were here today for the "international unemployed conference," which will be in session for two days and to arrange for a rally of the unemployed on Sunday afternoon.
The meetings are called, Mr. How said, because of "the serious aspect of the unemployment situation." He estimates the number of jobless as close to 5,000,000 and believes today's conference will ask President Harding to take action to relieve this economic condition.

Defends Dye Industry
COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—In an address here today, William Haynes, New York, publisher of "Drugs and Chemical Markets," declared preservation of the dye industry is a "commercial and military necessity."
Germany's dye plants are intact, he said, and "it is possible for the Germans to destroy the American dye industry almost with one stroke, unless it is protected."
He asserted that American dyes are equal in every way to those manufactured in Germany or any other country.
The United States should place an immediate embargo on the importation of all dyes, he declared, asserting such action was necessary from a military standpoint because of the importance of the dye industry in making poison gas.
"The dye industry is the keystone arch of the chemical industry in this country," the speaker said.

New-York-Day-By-Day

NEW YORK, April 28.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The natty fashion plates are wearing pink collars. George Arliss. One eye is all pulled out of shape by a monocle. Two new theatres on West Forty Eighth street. And the town is full of jobless actors. Making waffles in a window. Nothing so common as the life like Child's pancake jugglers however.
East Seventeenth street. Here's where Boss Murphy lives. A neighborhood of street corner loafers. Whistling away their fortunes. Whined knights going to a lodge meeting. Careless firemen dozing away in the sun. There's a little place where Naxos gramophones are made and then sold by Indians to tourists on west.
Dickens would something about this part of town. But I forget what. An old costume shop. Street gamblers grouped about an ivory tilted lamplight. They'll loot the horn and scampier off. A Chinese family, resting in his doorway to enjoy his two and a half pipe. There's no small like that of a Chinese laundry.
A Jewish theatre letting out. Old men in skull caps. Shaved women and red checked girls. A future merchant prince selling soy at the curb. Henry Ford would not get many votes down here. "Rembrandt" houses built by Millionaire Phillips. Picked with artistic dreamers. This is an age of civilization and yet that drug store advertises charms in its window.
East Side street car passengers carry a chip on their shoulders. They take a back talk from the conductor. And the women's laps are always filled with baskets. The little triangular parks filled with Spring loungers. Nodding patriarchs with stained, silver

In every community there's a couple that's gone together for thirty years. Mrs. Edna Mow has a letter from her niece in Iowa saying her husband "H" soon have money enough to get a divorce from.
Dress means less in New York than anywhere, I believe. The perfectly groomed man may be an aristocrat or a stable scullion. He came into a hotel lobby where I was waiting. His clothes represented the highest of the fifth Avenue tailor's art. A monocle dangled at his waistcoat.
Soon she came—a vision of true loveliness. Her complexion, her carriage and gown perfect. This was their conversation verbatim before they drifted into the dining room.
He: Let's kid.
She: How 'r you? Ain't it terrible. Little Agnes has typhoid?
He: Typhoid, Gee. Stay away from her. It's mighty catchable special among youthful people. Well you ready for chow?
She: I gotcha. Lead me to it.
